

WASHINGTON SCHOOL DISTRICT NO. 12
P.O. BOX 68
WASHINGTON, ARKANSAS 71862

NOTICE OF SCHOOL DESEGREGATION PLAN UNDER TITLE VI OF THE CIVIL RIGHTS ACT OF 1964

THIS NOTICE IS MADE AVAILABLE TO INFORM YOU ABOUT THE DESEGREGATION OF OUR SCHOOLS. KEEP A COPY OF THIS NOTICE. IT WILL ANSWER MANY QUESTIONS ABOUT SCHOOL DESEGREGATION.

1. Desegregation Plan in Effect

The WASHINGTON public school is being desegregated under a plan adopted in accordance with Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. The purpose of the desegregation plan is to eliminate from our school system the racial segregation of students and all other forms of discrimination based on race, color, or national origin.

2. Thirty-Day Spring Choice Period

Each student or his parent, or other adult person acting as parent, is required to choose the school the student will attend next school year. The choice period will begin on March 29 and close April 29, 1966.

3. Explanatory Letters and School Choice Forms

On the first day of the choice period, an explanatory letter and this notice will be sent by first-class mail to the parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of each student then in the schools who is expected to attend school the following school year. A school choice form will be sent with each letter, together with a return envelope addressed to the Superintendent. Additional copies of the letter, this notice and the choice form are freely available to the public at any school and at the Superintendent's office.

4. Returning the Choice Forms

Parents and students, at their option, may return the completed choice forms by hand to any school or by mail to the Superintendent's office, at any time during the 30-day choice period. No preference will be given for choosing early during the choice period. A choice is required for each student. No assignment to a school can be made unless a choice is made first.

5. Choice Form Information

The school choice form lists the names, locations and grades offered for each school. The reasons for any choice made are not to be stated. The form asks for the name, address and age of the student, the school and grade currently or last attended, the school chosen for the following year, the appropriate signature, and whether the form has been signed by the student or his parent. Any letter or other written communication which identifies the student and the school he wishes to attend will be deemed just as valid as if submitted on the choice form supplied by the school system. The names of students and the schools they choose or are assigned to under the plan will not be made public by school officials.

6. Course and Program Information

To guide students and parents in making a choice of school, listed below, by schools, are the courses and programs which are not given at every school in this school system.

The courses that Clow High School offers but Lincoln High School does not are economics, geography, and music.

The courses that Lincoln offers but Clow does not are chemistry, advanced science, Arkansas history, American government, occupations, and guidance. The courses and programs that are offered at Hope and Yerger High Schools but are not offered at Clow and Lincoln are physical science, physics, speech, Latin, Spanish, general math, journalism, shorthand, office practice, band, book-keeping, and football.

Clow has a "C" rating. Lincoln is expected to have an "A" rating. Hope and Yerger High Schools are "North Central" rated.

7. Signing the Choice Form

A choice form may be signed by a parent or other adult person acting as parent. A student who has reached the age of 15 at the time of choice, or will next enter the ninth or any higher grade, may sign his own choice form. The student's choice shall be controlling unless a different choice is exercised by his parent before the end of the period during which the student exercises his choice.

8. Processing of Choices

No choice will be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In cases where granting all choices for any school would cause overcrowding, the students choosing the school who live closest to it will be assigned to that school. Whenever a choice is to be denied, overcrowding will be determined by a uniform standard applicable to all schools in the system.

9. Notice of Assignment, Second Choice

All students and their parents will be promptly notified in writing of their school assignments. Should any student be denied his choice because of overcrowding he will promptly be notified and given a choice among all other schools in the system where space is available.

10. Students Moving Into the Community

A choice of school for any student who will be new to the school system may be made during the spring 30-day choice period or at any other time before he enrolls in school. An explanatory letter, this notice and the school choice form will be given out for each new student as soon as the school system knows about the student. At least seven days will be allowed for the return of the choice form when a choice is made after the spring 30-day choice period. A choice must be made for each student. No assignment to any school can be made unless a choice is made first.

11. Students Entering First Grade

The parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of every child entering the first grade, is required to choose the school his child will attend. Choices will be made under the same free choice process used for students new to the school system in other grades, as provided in paragraph 10.

12. Priority of Late Choices

No choice made after the end of the spring 30-day choice period may be denied for any reason other than overcrowding. In the event of overcrowding, choices made during the 30-day choice period will have first priority. Overcrowding will be determined by the standard provided for in paragraph 8. Any parent or student whose first choice is denied because of overcrowding will be given a second choice in the manner provided for in paragraph 9.

13. Tests, Health Records and Other Entrance Requirements

Any academic tests or other procedures used in assigning students to schools, grades, classrooms, sections, courses of study, or for any other purpose, will be applied uniformly to all students without regard to race, color or national origin. No choice of school will be denied because of failure at the time of choice to provide any health record, birth certificate, or other document. The student will be tentatively assigned in accordance with the plan and the choice made, and given ample time to obtain any required document. Curriculum, credit, and promotion procedures will not be applied in such a way as to hamper freedom of choice of any student.

14. Choices Once Made Cannot Be Altered

Once a choice has been submitted, it may not be changed, even though the choice period has not ended. The choice is binding for the entire school year to which it applies, except in the case of (1) compelling hardship, (2) change of residence to a place where another school is closer, (3) the availability of a school designed to fit the special needs of a physically handicapped student, (4) the availability at another school of a course of study required by the student, which is not available at the school chosen.

15. All Other Aspects of Schools Desegregated

All school-connected services, facilities, athletics, activities and programs are open to all on a desegregated basis. A student attending school for the first time on a desegregated basis may not be subject to any disqualification or waiting period for participation in activities and programs, including athletics, which might otherwise apply because he is a transfer student. All transportation furnished by the school system will also operate on a desegregated basis. Faculties will be desegregated, and no staff member will lose his position because of race, color or national origin. This includes any case where less staff is needed because schools are closed or enrollment is reduced.

16. Attendance Across School System Lines

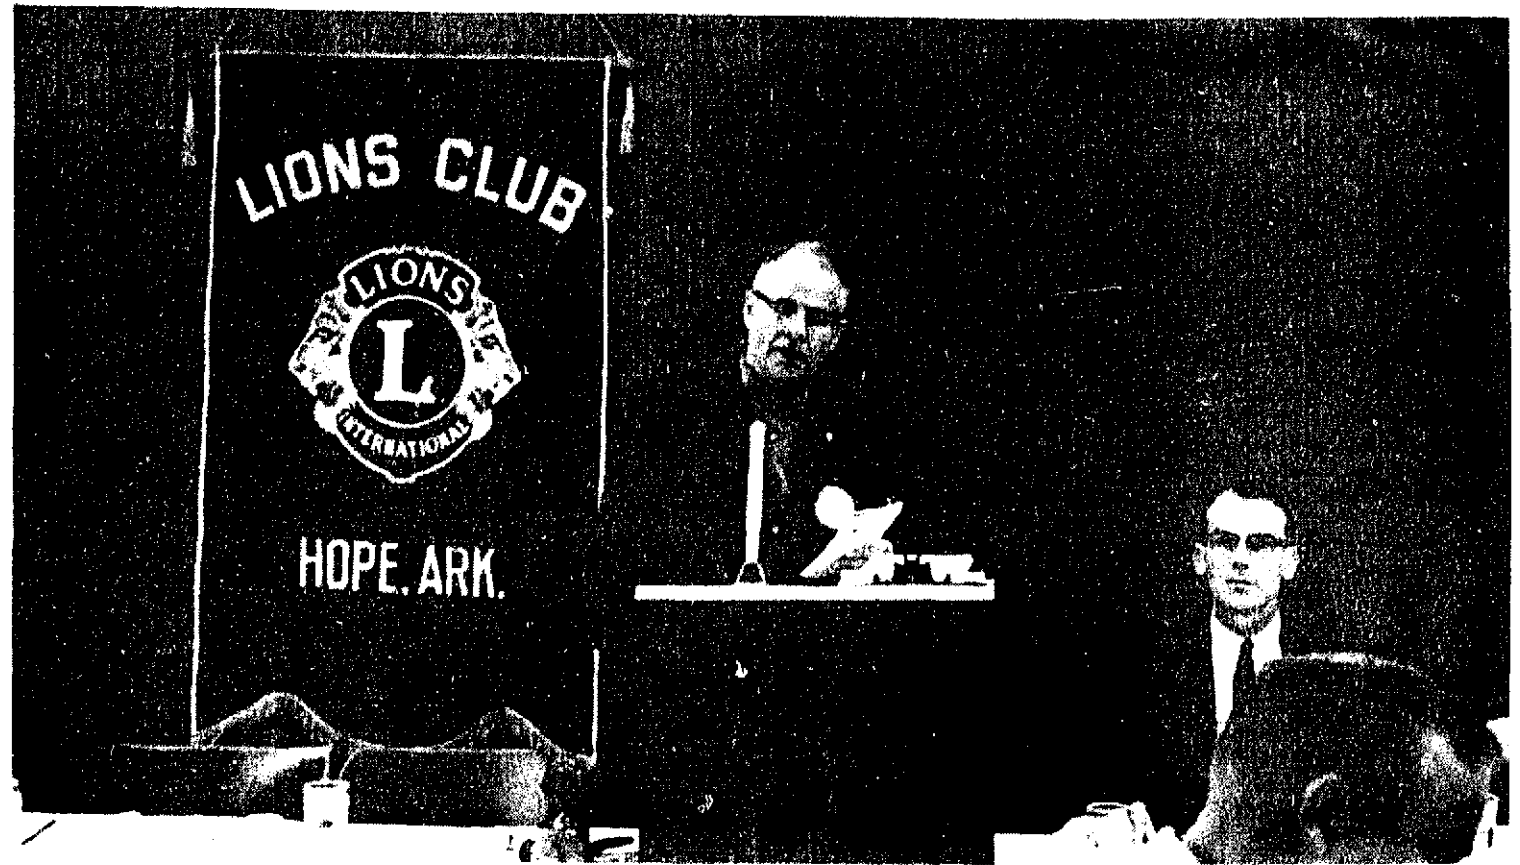

No arrangement will be made, or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in the community to attend school in another school system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race or color or national origin. The Washington School District will make arrangements for students of either race, in grades nine through twelve to attend either Hope High School, provided the student desires to attend because of the higher rated school or to receive the benefits of something offered there which is not available in the Washington District. The Washington School District will grant permission for students of another school district to attend one of its schools for similar reasons.

17. Violations To Be Reported

It is a violation of our desegregation plan for any school official or teacher to influence or coerce any person in the making of a choice or to threaten any person with penalties or promise favors for any choice made. It is also a violation of Federal regulations for any person to intimidate, threaten, coerce, retaliate or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with the free making of a choice of school. Any person having any knowledge of any violation of these prohibitions should report the facts immediately by mail or phone to the Equal Educational Opportunities Program, U. S. Office of Education, Washington, D. C. 20202 (telephone 202-962-0333). The name of any person reporting any violation will not be disclosed without his consent. Any other violation of the desegregation plan or other discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in the school system is also a violation of Federal requirements, and should likewise be reported. Anyone with a complaint to report should first bring it to the attention of local school officials, unless he feels it would not be helpful to do so. If local officials do not correct the violation promptly, any person familiar with the facts of the violation should report them immediately to the U. S. Office of Education at the above address or phone number.

Judgment Upheld by State Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court upheld today a $45,000 jury judgment for land taken by the state Highway Department for interstate highway construction in Faulkner County.

The department had estimated the land was worth $19,000. Lillie Rhodes, owner of the four-acre tract, said it was more valuable because a portion of it included the Gold Creek boat dock and landing facilities on Lake Conway.

Rhodes' witness, Russell McLean, a real estate appraiser for 25 years, testified that the land was worth $85,000.

In other cases the Supreme Court:

— Affirmed a Mississippi Circuit Court ruling that the city of Blytheville was not bound by a covenant executed by the previous owners of the property now owned by the city. C. R. and Mary Hester had agreed, in leasing part of their property to a service station, not to operate another station in Blytheville and another station was built on their property after the city got title to it.

— Affirmed Hot Springs Circuit Court's refusal to award injury damages to James E. Erwin whose car was involved in an accident with an Allied Van Lines truck.

— Affirmed a Hot Springs Circuit Court judgment awarding $12,000 to Mr. and Mrs. J. Houston Fowler for 18.58 acres of land taken for highway right-of-way.

Jap Delegation Cancels Visit

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP) — A visit to the United States by a delegation of Japanese governors scheduled for May, has been canceled, says Gov. John H. Reed.

Reed, chairman of the National Governors' Conference, said Monday the cancellation was caused by "an economic depression that is currently striking Japan."

Because of the slump, the national government is applying economic stimulants which require demobilization by the governors of the various prefectures, Reed said.

Reed, who led a delegation of 10 U.S. governors to Japan, Hong Kong and South Viet Nam last fall, expressed disappointment that the return visit is off.

Big Reward for Spa Bombers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — An account fund for reward money aimed at solving two bombings here last Wednesday will be closed this afternoon, Mayor Dan Wolfe said.

The fund totaled $11,880 after Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs and nightclub owner Dane Harris contributed $2,500 each to the fund Saturday.

Dobbs and Harris were the targets of the bombings. Officials said the reward money will be returned to contributors if it is not used.

Defects to Cost Firm $3 Million

DETROIT (AP) — Chevrolet Division of General Motors plans to spend about $3 million to repair accelerator defects in 1964-65 model cars.

A spokesman said Monday the firm had issued a call to owners of 1964-65 Chevelles and 1965 Chevrolets with Powerglide transmissions to bring them into dealers for repairs on throttles that reportedly stick. He said a splash shield would be installed free on all cars.

Unofficial estimates put the cost at $2 per car, or $3 million for the 1.5 million vehicles on the nation's roads.

The spokesman said Chevrolet had received reports of snow or slush causing accelerators to stick. However, he said the company had no reports of "personal injuries resulting from the fewer than half a dozen cases" involving such incidents.

"This happened only in heavy snow or slush at around 32 degrees," he said. Installation of the shield, he said, would "prevent slush from packing around the throttle linkage."

Asked about the large number of cars recalled, the spokesman said: "Regardless of the number of incidents involved we take corrective action as the need indicates."

He declined comment on whether Chevrolet would assume responsibility for possible damages.

The spokesman also declined comment on auto industry critic Ralph Nader's remark that the auto companies be required to notify the federal government anytime a defect was found in a large number of cars of one model. Nader made the suggestion to a Senate committee that now is studying President Johnson's highway safety bill.

Liberation Day for the Hungarians

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Hungarians marked their 21st Liberation Day with a relaxed celebration Monday showing how the atmosphere has changed since Soviet tanks crushed the anti-Soviet uprising in 1956.

Ten thousand well-dressed members of the Communist Youth Union assembled in Heroes' Square and took a loyalty oath. Teen-age girls even had seamless nylons and smart hairdos.

Before a national television audience and perhaps 50,000 spectators, the youth pledged "to be true to proletarian internationalist ideas (and) if necessary to defend with arms the fatherland, the Hungarian People's Republic."

The military parade held every April 4 for nearly two decades was omitted for the first time. An official said that for economy reasons it will be staged only every five years in the future. Liberation Day celebrates the expulsion of German troops from Hungarian soil in 1945.

Bands played and a pale spring sun warmed the square, scene of climactic events in nearly a century of Hungarian history. Spectators munched sausages and soft drinks. A handful of the 60,000 Soviet troops estimated to be stationed in Hungary wandered about.

After the oath taking, visiting Soviet cosmonaut Alexei Leonov said in a speech that "if those who laid down their lives 21 years ago for the liberation of Hungary could be here today, they would learn that they had not died in vain."

Rightists Denied an Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined today to hear an appeal in which New York civil rights demonstrators contended they should have been allowed to show that persons with whose movements they interfered were themselves violating laws against racial discrimination.

Also turned back without hearing was an appeal from a Jewish doctor convicted of abortion in Virginia, who asserted followers of his faith were arbitrarily excluded from the jury.

The court did agree to hear an Indiana case which might produce a test of the applicability in state courts of the federal rule on double jeopardy.

It overturned the contempt conviction of a New Hampshire man who refused to answer questions in an investigation of communism.

And it upheld a ruling that North Carolina can elect congressmen this year under a restricting plan the lower court has held invalid.

Involved in the New York case were 11 persons convicted of disorderly conduct for actions in a demonstration at a lower East Side construction project against asserted racial discrimination by building trades unions. Several sat in the path of trucks and disobeyed police orders to move. They drew five days in jail or fines of $25.

In their appeal, the 11 questioned whether the trial court could constitutionally refuse evidence "that the persons who movements were obstructed were involved in the commission of crimes by virtue of practicing racial discrimination."

The physician, Dr. Harold L. Goldman, was convicted in Norfolk of performing an abortion and was sentenced to two years.

Claiming violation of the equal protection clause of the Constitution, Goldman contended officials reneged on a commitment to call jury panel members for service in alphabetical order, with the result that three Jews on the panel were not called.

Goldman's counsel challenged the jury selection process but the trial court turned him down citing testimony by the bailiff that he did not know the religion of the panel members, and that when he called in prospective jurors they did not respond alphabetically.

In the Indiana case Ronald R. Cichos was tried twice on separate charges of reckless homicide and involuntary manslaughter in connection with an automobile accident, and convicted both times on the reckless homicide charge. His sentence was one to five years.

In the first trial the jury returned its verdict on the reckless homicide charge without going into the involuntary manslaughter issue. Cichos won a reversal in a state court appeal, and was tried a second time, again on both charges.

Cichos contended the absence of a verdict on the involuntary manslaughter charge at the first trial "by implication" acquitted him of that, and a second trial constituted double jeopardy.

The Indiana Supreme Court held that the elements of the two charges are almost identical, and took the view that Cichos was "simply given the lesser penalty" of the reckless homicide law.

The contempt case involved Hugo De Gregory of Hudson, N.H., sentenced to serve a year in jail or until he purged himself of contempt by answering questions.

The conviction was overturned by a 6-3 decision of the Supreme Court with justice William O. Douglas writing the majority opinion. The dissent was by justice John M. Harlan, joined by justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White.

In an inquiry by the New Hampshire attorney general under a law providing for investigation if he has information deemed reasonable or reliable concerning subversion, De Gregory testified he had not been a member of the Communist party at any time since the state's anti-subversion law was passed in 1957. He refused to answer further questions.

Douglas held that there was no showing of present danger of sedition against the state. He said "the first amendment prevents the government from using the power to investigate, enforced by the contempt power, to prove at will and without relation to existing need."

Harlan, in dissent, argued the state should be free to investigate any subject of legitimate concern to the state, "without first being asked to produce evidence of the very type to be sought in the course of the inquiry."

The North Carolina election case was appealed by Renn Drum Jr., a Winston-Salem lawyer, and others, attacking a lower court ruling that rejected the reapportionment plan for failure to meet the Supreme Court's one-man-one-vote requirement, but let it stand until 1967.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lee Glover

Miss Pam Butler of Hope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Butler, and Michael Lee Glover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Glover of McGehee, exchanged vows in the Garrett Memorial Baptist Church on Friday, March 25 at 7 p.m. in the presence of the immediate families and close friends.

Rev. Gordon Renshaw of Hope officiated at the double-ring ceremony before a setting of white gladiolus enhanced with tall baskets of greenery and three seven branched candelabras.

Mrs. Dianne Dehan sang, "Whether Thou Goest" and "Always." The organist, Mrs. B. C. Hyatt, also played "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the prayer bench.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of white satin covered in chantilly lace with a rounded neckline and long sleeves forming a V on her hands. A white satin rose and descending petals held her veil of illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses with satin streamers of love knots.

Mrs. Gary Don Formby, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a pink sheath with round neckline and lace sleeves and matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of pink roses with pink satin streamers.

The groom's father served as best man and F. H. Gill and John Barnes, both of McGehee, were ushers. The bride's sister, Miss Jan Butler lighted the candles.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Butler wore a blue lace suit dress with blending accessories and the mother of the groom, Mrs. Glover, chose a pale blue suit with blending accessories. Each wore a corsage of white rose buds.

Following the wedding a reception was held in the hall adjacent the church. Hostesses were: Misses Joan and Judy Butler, cousins of the bride, Jan Butler, Mrs. Adene Foley, Mrs. Ora Lynn Mosier, and Mrs. Jenny Formby. The brides table was covered with bridal satin and net with satin bows pinned at each corner. The wedding cake was three tiers with a miniature bride and groom at the top. The memory candle burned on the table near the bride's book.

Out of town guests were: Miss Barbara Edwards of Memphis, Miss Carolyn Dettenheim of El Dorado, Tommy Rowland of Pine Bluff, Miss Pat Lawrence and Miss Betty Lynn Robinson of El Dorado and Roy Blakely of Nashville.

For travel, the bride chose a blue 3-piece suit. She pinned a corsage of white rose buds at her shoulder. The couple will reside in Arkadelphia where the bride is a shopmate at Henderson State Teachers.

Teachers Role Can't Be Limited
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
CAMDEN, Ark. (AP) — The teacher's role cannot be limited to the education of the young, state Rep. David Pryor told the Ouachita County Education Association here Monday night.

"Educators must see all sides of every question," he said, "and be willing to offer diverse opinions on subjects when their conscience dictates."

Pryor, 31, is a candidate for the 4th Congressional District seat vacated by former Rep. Oren Harris.

Death Ends Long Show Partnership

By LARRY FRIEDMAN

NEW YORK (AP) — Russel Crouse always was in the theater on opening night to send telegrams on the progress of their show to his writing partner, Howard Lindsay, at home.

The telegrams, filled with wit, often would come at 15-minute intervals to cheer up Lindsay, who feared watching the reaction of the first-night audience.

The telegrams mostly bright word of a box-office success because Lindsay and Crouse were Broadway's most famous show-writing team for 32 years.

Their partnership ended Sunday with the death of Crouse. He was 73. He died in St. Luke's Hospital of pneumonia and complications.

The one exception to Crouse's telegrams was "Life With Father," because Lindsay played the lead role of the father. Lindsay's wife, Dorothy Stickney, was the mother.

Lindsay was traveling in the South when told of his partner's death and made plans to return to the city.

The pair brought admiration and joy to millions of theatergoers from the time they first united their writing talents in 1934 with "Anything Goes" until their last show, the 1959 hit musical "Sound of Music."

Lindsay and Crouse collaborated on 14 shows and seven of them could be classed solid hits. They won the Pulitzer Prize in 1946 for "State of the Union," but "Life With Father" must be considered their biggest success. It ran on Broadway for more than seven years.

Other top shows were: "Red, Hot and Blue," in 1936, "Arsenic and Old Lace" in 1940, and "Call Me Madam" in 1950.

Crouse, a former newspaperman, was short and round-shouldered in comparison with the tall and erect Lindsay. Crouse, who wore a mustache and bore a facial resemblance to the late author Robert Benchley, typed the team's scripts on a battered old newspaper typewriter. Lindsay did the pacing while they kicked around story ideas.

Both men were perfectionists. They didn't begin to write until they had plotted out the action in every scene and acted out character parts until they knew them as well as they did their own families.

It often took them a year to write a play, but "Life With Father" was whipped out in 17 days from the book by Clarence Day.

When they reached their 25th year of collaboration with "Sound of Music" — they stayed together as a team after that, although no other shows were written — Crouse said: "We have been through hell and misery at times, but I can't think of anybody else's 25 years I'd trade it for."

Born in Findlay, Ohio, Crouse was the son of a newspaper publisher. He spent several years as a reporter on newspapers in Cincinnati, Kansas City and New York. He was a press agent for the Theater Guild before becoming a playwright.

He is survived by his second wife, the former Anna Erskine, and two children, a daughter, Lindsay Ann, and a son, Timothy.

No date was announced for the private funeral services.

Only time Man of War was defeated was when Upset beat him in the Sanford Stakes at Saratoga on Aug. 13, 1919.

Dear Helen: I'm 15. He's 18. He has a reputation for being wild, but he says I'm the only one who can straighten him out. He says he needs somebody to believe in him and trust him. I know he goes out and does bad things but that's because nobody understands him. There is a wild streak in everybody but I could bring out the good in him.

My parents won't let me, though. They say he can come to the house and visit but I can't go out with him until he proves himself. He says they're against him too and would never change, so he wants me to pretend I'm a girl friend's house and date him anyway. Then when he's all rehabilitated (excuse spelling; we'll show my folks they were wrong. Would it work? — In Love

Bragan Has Confidence in Atlanta

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Bobby Bragan, manager of the Atlanta Braves, had just been asked to run down his team.

"Well," he said, "we've got nine guys who can hit 20 homers. We've got five starting pitchers. The bullpen is solid. And the bench is good."

Is Bragan confident?
"Yep," he replied. "If we can get Koufax and Drysdale to go back into the movies, and take a couple of pitchers like Marichal and Maloney with them."

And that's the way it is with the Braves. They feel they have the talent to win the pennant, and they certainly feel moving to Atlanta will help. But in the National League, nothing is ever certain and Bragan wouldn't mind a little help.

Most of it will come from his payers with the Braves ready to field veterans at all positions. As a matter of fact it may be difficult for a rookie to break in anywhere.

First there are those nine 20-homer hitters — outfielder Hank Aaron, catcher Joe Torre, third baseman Eddie Mathews, outfielder Felipe Alou, outfielder Mack Jones and catcher-first baseman Gene Oliver, all of whom hit 20 or more last season.

Bragan then adds in first baseman Lee Thomas, acquired from the Boston Red Sox after hitting .271 with 22 homers and 75 runs batted in, and outfielder Rico Carty and shortstop Dennis Menke, who hit the 20-homer mark in 1964.

The only non-qualifier is second baseman Frank Bolling.

Two of the 20-homer hitters — Carty and Oliver — figure to start the season on the bench unless Bragan decides to platoon. Add veteran Frank Thomas and there's little doubt why Bragan smiles about his bench.

Pitching could be the only question-mark with the make-or-break pitcher likely to be Denny Lemaster, a 17-game winner in 1964 who slipped to 7-13 last season.

Lemaster or Hank Fischer, 8-9 last year, figures as the No. 4 starter behind 24-game winner Tony Cloninger, Ken Johnson and Wade Blasingame. Veteran Arnold Earley, also acquired from Boston, will add strength to the Billy O'Del-Phil Niekro bullpen combine.

Despite Lemaster's fall last year, the Braves were in the middle of the pennant fight until mid-September — only 2½ games out — when they finally slipped and fell back, finishing fifth, 11 games behind the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But one major factor has to be considered this year besides the wealth of talent: The Braves did not fight. They switched.

The attitude on the club seems to have changed with the move from Milwaukee to Atlanta.

"We certainly would have had a better chance of winning last year if we had played somewhere else," Bragan said. "You don't relish the idea of playing before 5,000 or 6,000 people at home."

The courts willing, the Braves won't have to.

It could make the difference.

Palmer Irked by Complaints at Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Complaints that Augusta National's sprawling layout can be conquered only by the Big Three in the Masters Golf Tournament are hotly rejected by Arnold Palmer, trying for his fifth title in nine years.

"I think this is an exceptionally fair golf course for everyone," Palmer said before making another practice run Tuesday over the wide fairways and massive greens where the Masters' showdown starts Thursday. "It is the fairest golf course there is."

"There are spots on each hole where you have to hit the ball to win the tournament. Just because the fairways are wide doesn't mean you can hit the ball anywhere."

"Placement is of the utmost importance here on every shot. Every shot has to be contemplated. Putts have to be figured beyond just trying to hole out. There are putts on which you would be foolish to try to hole out."

Palmer said the course doesn't eliminate the average hitter from the running, as contended by numerous golfers who can't match Palmer's booming drives.

"Look at Gary Player," Palmer said. "He's one of the so-called Big Three, and there are 50 guys who can drive the ball farther than he can."

Player, the wiry little South African who won the Masters in 1961, isn't so sure the wide open course can be handled by average hitters faced with matching shot with Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio slugger who is the other member of the reigning triumvirate.

"I think there should be a premium for accuracy on drives, just as there is on putts," Player said. "On these fairways all you have to do is hit the ball a mile."

Nicklaus, out to become the first back-to-back winner in the 29-year history of the Masters and considered the golfer most helped by the open spaces of the course wasn't in the discussion.

The brawny slugger followed the ritual that won for him last year, when he practiced on the course for a week and then flew home to Columbus, Ohio, for two days. He planned to resume practice today.

Palmer, who is becoming known as the "even-number" golfer at the Masters because he won in 1958, 1960, 1962 and 1964, said: "I like to believe in that even-number theory this year but next year to hell with it."

Doug Sanders, hottest golfer on the circuit with three victories including two in the last two weekends, agreed with Palmer that the Big Three doesn't have the championship locked up.

"I think I can win it — if this old putting blade stays hot," the flamboyant Californian said.

Larsen's Service Is Cheap Now

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Don Larsen, a million-dollar pitcher 10 years ago, was available for $1 today after the Baltimore Orioles asked waivers on him preparatory to giving the veteran a right-hander his unconditional release.

Larsen, 36, pitched the only no-hitter in World Series history in 1955 when he hurled a perfect game for the New York Yankees in the fifth game of the series against the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Harry Dalton, personnel director of the Orioles, said he had tried unsuccessfully to line up another big league job for Larsen. After he is given his release, the lanky pitcher can be claimed for $1 by any club.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Baseball's senior citizen, Casey Stengel, is on his way home today after spending a month at the New York Mets' training base.

And O' Case liked what he saw of the club he managed for 3½ years.

"They're greatly improved," Casey said. "The most impressive thing is the development of the outfield. With the way they're being platooned, they're no lower than third in the National League. Only the Giants and Braves outfields may be better."

Casey didn't say where he rated the rest of the Mets.

Porks Start Their Spring Practice

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Back Ronnie South took the Arkansas offense through a 30-minute scrimmage and whipped the defense on the opening day of spring football practice Monday, to the surprise of Coach Frank Broyles.

The offensive squad was stripped of seven starters by graduation.

South threw the ball well and Tommy Trantham, a star defensive back now trying to succeed Bobby Crockett at split end, made two outstanding catches.

Broyles termed the opening workout, a two-hour session in fundamentals prior to the scrimmage, "pretty good for the first day."

"The offensive won . . . They did better than defense, which was surprising," he said of the scrimmage.

An opening-day back injury took All-America tackle Loyd Phillips out of spring practice the rest of the week. Broyles said after the workout that Phillips' injury appeared to be "nothing serious."

The Razorbacks drill daily through Thursday, when they take off for the Easter holidays until April 19.

Broyles said each workout this week would be about two hours long, with the scrimmage session following.

Two Athletic Unions Still Have Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — AAU and NCAA officials will consider separately some serious fundamental problems before meeting again next month with a mediation panel in an effort to solve the dispute between the two giants of U.S. amateur athletics.

Despite the existence of these problems, which were not disclosed, Theodore Khel of New York, chairman of the five-man panel, said at the close of a two-day meeting Monday:

"We are very optimistic about our ability to reach an agreement in the dispute."

Later, Clifford Buck, president of the Amateur Athletic Union, said "Progress is not as fast as I would like, but I think it's as fast as could be expected."

"Our aim is to get an agreement between the parties," Khel said. "We will make an arbitration award only if necessary."

Ralph Metcalf of Chicago, a former Olympic runner and a member of the panel said:

"We feel track and field is the key issue. If we can resolve the track and field dispute, we feel all the other sports will fall in line."

While mediation is going on — the next meeting is set for May 2-3 and possibly May 4 — the National Collegiate Athletic Association and the AAU are bound by a moratorium.

This enables NCAA members to participate in AAU events without penalty and vice versa.

Terry Is Last Big Holdout in Baseball

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Ralph Terry is a majority of one.

The Cleveland Indians pitcher is the last holdout in major league baseball and it appears he and the Indians brass have come to a dead end.

"He won't budge," Indians Vice President Walter (Hoot) Evers said Monday. "I called him a second time and there is no change. It's getting late."

This means the 30-year-old Terry still wants $38,000. Indians President Gabe Paul has offered $31,000.

Terry remains at his home in Larned, Kan., and seems determined to stay there until the Indians are willing to pay the right price.

"I have no plans to go to Tucson to talk to Gabe," Terry said. "I don't know that we could accomplish anything face-to-face that we can't by telephone."

The Indians may put Terry on their restricted list because they must cut to 28 players by midnight Sunday.

"As it stands now, we don't intend to contact him before then," Paul said.

Another team was, and maybe still is, interested in Terry.

The Indians had a steady fan here last week. Frank Lane, former Indians' general manager and now special assistant to player personnel director for the Baltimore Orioles, followed the Tribe for several days.

There was no official statements, but sources close to the Indians said Lane wanted to make a deal for Terry, a right-hander who was 11-6 last year with the Tribe. It was his first year with Cleveland after five seasons with the New York Yankees.

PALE BEACH GARDENS, Fla. (AP) — Doug Sanders, riding on victories in the Greensboro Open and the Jacksonville Open, leads money winners in earned run average, with .84 the Professional Golfers' Association standings.

Sanders has collected $41,241 in official tournament play and veteran had his best season in $19,717 in unofficial earnings for 1961 with the Yankees when he finished with a 16-3 record. The $30,408 in official winnings and trade deal that sent Pedro Ramirez unofficially for a total of $275,000 to New York.

Other official, unofficial and total winnings released by the PGA Monday include:

Phil Rodgers, $27,460; $5,103; $32,564. Gay Brewer, $25,377; $3,336; $28,613. Arnold Palmer, $22,267; $18,810, $41,078. Frank Tom Weiskopf, $19,195; $913; $20,109. Joe Campbell, $15,957; $3,437; $19,395. R. H. Sikes, $15,129; $3,717; $18,846. Miller Barber, $14,908; $2,021; $16,929.

Dietzel Is Reported for S. Carolina

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — Two newspapers report Paul Dietzel is resigning as head football coach at Army to become athletic director and head football coach at the University of South Carolina.

The Columbia State said in today's editions formal announcement would be made by South Carolina officials at a news conference Wednesday.

The New Orleans Time-Picayune said in a copyrighted story by sports editor Bob Roessler that Army would announce Dietzel's resignation today and would begin looking for a new head coach immediately.

The Times-Picayune story quoted an "unimpeachable source" at Army as saying South Carolina would give Dietzel an eight-year contract calling for $35,000 a year.

South Carolina seeks to replace Marvin Bass, who resigned as athletic director and head football coach to become head coach and general manager of the new Montreal team in the Continental Football League.

The New Orleans story said Dietzel's seven-year contract at Army called for $18,000 a year and was later renewed to $19,000 for 10 years. He also has a rent-free cottage at West Point, the story said, and fringe benefits probably made the Army contract worth about $25,000 a year.

Dietzel's four Army teams had a 21-18-1 record. They had one victory and a tie in four games with arch rival Navy. The Cadets were 4-3-1 last fall.

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Kansas State took advantage of Arkansas errors and whipped the Razorbacks 12-3 and 6-2 in a baseball doubleheader here Monday.

Arkansas is 2-5 and Kansas 7-4 for the season.

Yanks Unleash Hurricane on Cincinnati

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Tornadoes swept through Florida Monday, and that wasn't a bad hurricane the New York Yankees unleashed at Fort Lauderdale.

Roger Repoz, a young outfielder, walloped three home runs as the Yankees outlasted Cincinnati 10-9 in one of two games that survived Florida's rainy, windy weather.

In the other Florida game, Baltimore downed Washington 8-4.

At Mesa, Ariz., Cleveland whipped Los Angeles 7-2 and at Las Vegas, Nev., the Chicago Cubs blanked California 4-0.

Cancelled because of the storm were Houston-Pittsburgh; Minnesota-Kansas City; St. Louis-Chicago White Sox; Boston-New York Mets, and Atlanta-Philadelphia.

Repoz slammed two of his homers off Sammy Ellis, who will open the season for the Reds against the Mets next Monday at Cincinnati. Repoz tagged Ted Davidson for the third.

Gordy Coleman led the Reds' attack with five runs batted in on a homer, triple and single. Johnny Edwards also homered for Cincinnati.

New York rallied for its winning runs in the ninth inning with Lou Clinton's bases-loaded single delivering the tying and winning runs.

Leon Wagner rapped a pair of run-scoring doubles and left-handed ace Sam McDowell struck out seven Dodgers in the six innings he worked as Cleveland beat Los Angeles.

Max Alvis also drove in two runs for the Indians and McDowell, the American League's strikeout king last year, allowed five hits but had trouble with his control, walking five, in his six innings.

Ernie Broglio worked the first seven innings and relief specialist Ted Abbramano finished up the Cubs' three-hit shutout of the Angels. Broglio allowed all the California hits and stretched his spring record to three earned runs in 31 innings.

Catcher Chris Krug had a perfect day with four hits in four swings for Chicago. He drove in two runs. Billy Williams homered for the Cubs against Angel ace Dean Chance.

Promoters Trying for Another Fight

LONDON (AP) — Fight promoters on both sides of the Atlantic are competing for the right to put Cassius Clay up against Britain's heavyweight champion, Henry Cooper.

Alex Griffiths, who operates in the English Midlands, wants to stage the fight at a soccer ground and says he can take 300,000 pounds ($440,000).

"Clay," he said, "would be guaranteed 150,000 pounds ($420,000) — not bad for a lad who may be earning a few dollars a day in the Army before long."

Cooper's manager, Jim Wicks, says he has another firm offer of a quick fight with Clay from Canada's Harold Ballard but wants the fight in Britain.

Said Wicks: "Clay needs the money more than Cooper. Naturally we want Clay over here."

"But we will go any where to permit Henry to achieve his life's ambition."

Cooper put Clay on the canvas in their only previous encounter three years ago but still lost in the fifth, just as Cassius had predicted.

Astros Sign a Young Hurler

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros have signed Tom Griffin, 18, a right-handed pitcher from Van Nuys, Calif., as their No. 1 choice in the January free agent draft.

"Tom has impressed us just as Dierker did," Wilson said. "He throws very hard and has an excellent curve ball and good control."

Griffin will attend junior college until June, when he will report to the Astros' rookie team in Bismarck, N.D.

Only Regular Play Could Make Moon Beam

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
Sports Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Not everybody would have the guts to walk away from a job that once paid him $55,000 in a single year, as Wally Moon did.

Last September, after 12 seasons as a major league outfielder, Wally walked into the office of Buzzy Bavasi at Dodger Stadium in Chavez Ravine. Through the huge panes of glass he could see left field below—that part of the turf which was once his private preserve.

"It's plain to me," said Wally, "that I've had it as an everyday player. I don't want to play ball under these conditions. I'd just as soon have my release."

When an outfielder is approaching 36 years old and has spent the last couple of years on the bench, and asks for his release, he invariably is obliged, particularly when his last figures showed he has batted .202.

So now Wallace Wade Moon, obviously named after the old Duke University football coach, is the head of the Physical Education Department and the baseball coach at John Brown University in Siloam Springs, Ark.

John Brown U is a little Protestant school up in the Ozarks in the northwest corner of

Between You'n' Me

Arkansas. It has an enrollment of 322 men and 194 women. Wally Moon has 15 boys on his baseball squad. "I don't know too much about them," he said. "We played one game. We won."

Wally and Bettye Moon and their five children live on a 40-acre piece of land a few miles out of town. It's nothing like Encino, Calif., tucked into the hills overlooking the San Fernando Valley, which was home since he joined the Dodgers in Los Angeles in 1959.

"Too many people there for me," said Wally. "It's like New York. A nice place to visit, but who wants to live there?"

Giving up professional baseball, however, was not as easy as he makes it sound.

"The only real enjoyment I got out of baseball was playing," mused Moon. "I mean playing every day, not pinch-hitting like I did the last year and a half."

"I miss spring training at Vero Beach. I miss being with the guys. After I got my release, I talked with several clubs about continuing as a player. I still might be interested. It would depend on the club."

But Wally doesn't sound too optimistic. His career has been cleavered. He's back where he was 15 years ago when he had his degree from Texas A&M and was making $500 a month as a high school teacher while he was studying for his master's (which he eventually got), and then had to decide whether it was going to be baseball or an academic life.

He was a good ballplayer, a .290 hitter for most of his major league tenure, and he took care of himself.

When he was released by the Dodgers, he was in contact with the Chicago Cubs, the Houston Astros, the New York Mets and even the New York Yankees of the American League. Each place it was the same.

"They wanted me," admitted Wally. "I could probably have joined the Yankees. But I'd have been a pinch-hitter."

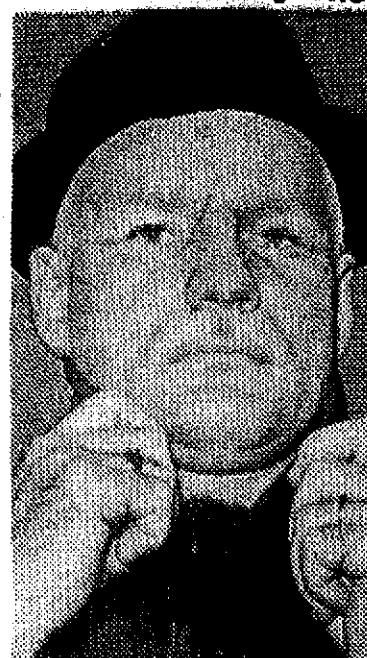

Wally makes it sound almost Spanish the way he draws "peench-hitter," and it was the least satisfying of all the duties he performed in baseball. He preferred to rest his future with John Brown University. Wally is originally a cotton picker from northeast Arkansas, so he's not too far out of his native element.

He got acquainted with the area by running Wally Moon's Baseball Camp in Siloam Springs the last couple of years for boys from eight to 18. He's looking forward to playing golf with Frank Broyles, the head football coach at the University of Arkansas, which is just 30 miles away.

"The thing I'll miss mostly," he said, "is being able to hit a baseball." Every day.

Keeps Rambling—and Winning

By SANDY PADWE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CHICAGO — (NEA) — In 30 years as a college basketball coach, George Ireland has lost 80 per cent of his stomach, won a national championship and developed a philosophy.

"I talk to each of my boys individually," Ireland said, "because I want them each to feel they're the pillar and if the pillar falls, so does the whole team."

This season, Loyola's pillars have been as solid as the Parthenon's, and the Ramblers are back in the NCAA tournament, hoping for the same championship they won in 1963.

"This club," Ireland said, "is faster than the '63 team, it has better shooters and a better bench. The rebounding, though, isn't as strong, but the speed offsets that somewhat."

"Those who have seen Kentucky play, compare us. Kentucky doesn't have any height either."

If Loyola hopes to reach College Park, Md., for the NCAA finals, it will have to beat Kentucky en route as well as Michigan and Western Kentucky.

The meeting with Kentucky would be in Iowa City, Iowa, at the NCAA's Midwest Regional.

"There hasn't been much talk about going all the way,"

Ireland said. "This bunch isn't like that. They're a cold group. They win a game, then walk into the dressing room with a 'who's next' attitude."

That's not a hard thing to do when you're one of the five best offensive teams in the country, averaging 97 points per game.

"We have the personnel for it," Ireland says, "and we also have the defense. Against UCLA we forced THEM into 27 turnovers and against Wichita State forced them into 29."

"When you play a good tight defense like that you just handle the ball more."

Until mid-season, the Ramblers were starting two seniors and three sophomores. But then Alan Miller was declared ineligible and Frank Perez, another senior, moved into the lineup.

"The sophomores (5-11 Doug Wardlaw and 6-2 Corky Bell) have really learned quickly," Ireland said. "Bell is my best defensive man. He always draws the toughest assignments."

"Perez is a good rebounder at 6-4 but Billy Smith is our muscle man (also the tallest starter). He's 6-5, but strong, and he's our leading scorer." Jim Coleman, a 5-11 guard, is the second best scorer with a 19-point average compared to Smith's 20.

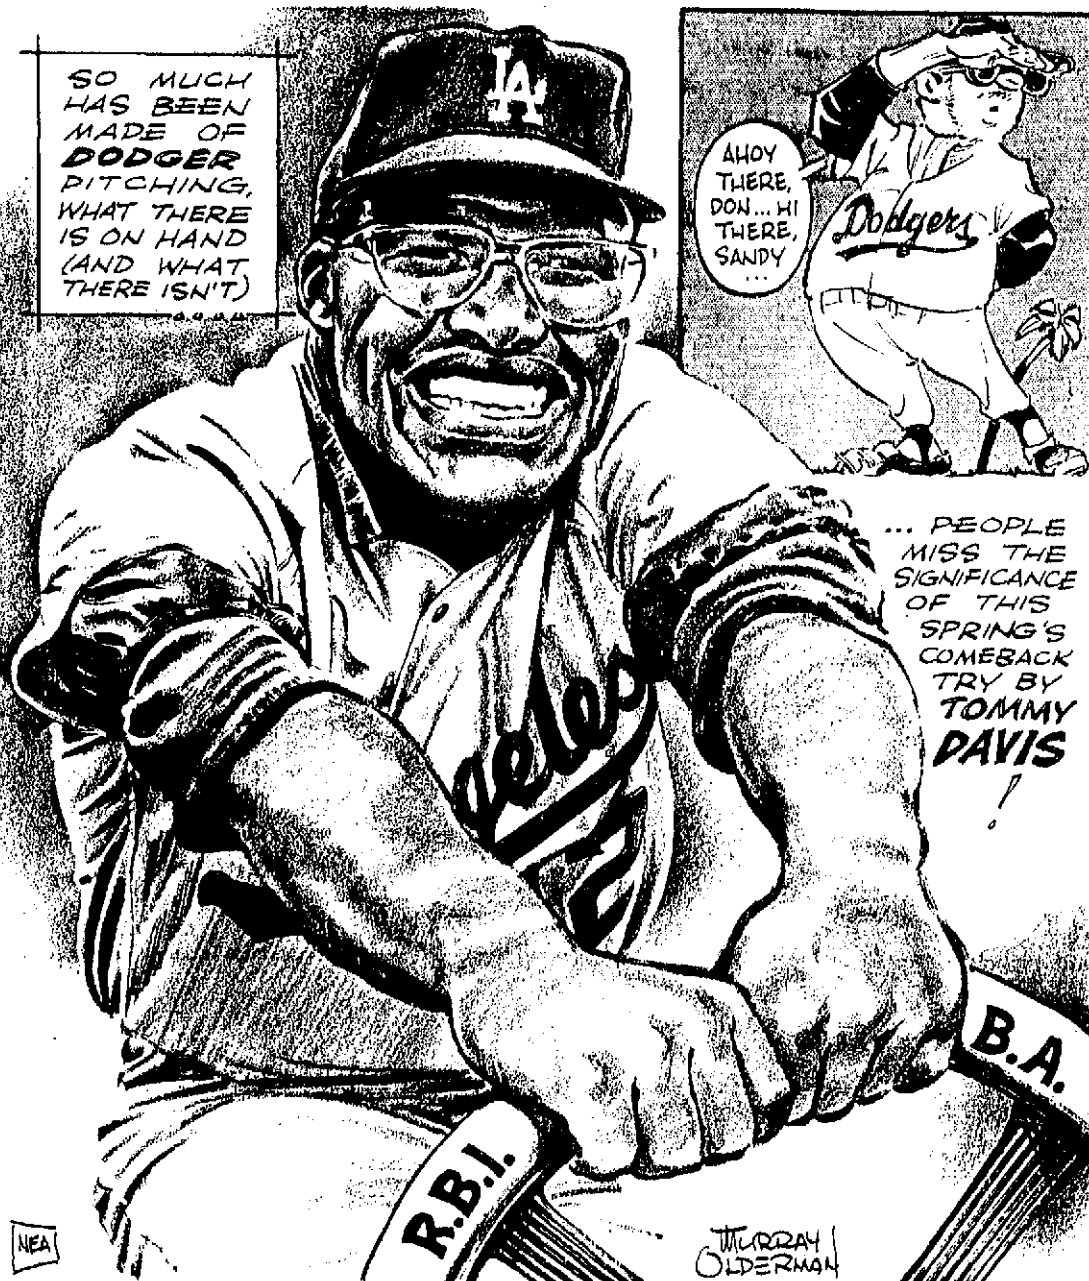

Wardlaw averages 17 points per game, Bell 16 and Perez 11 which makes for good balance. It also enables the Ramblers to get by without the big man.

As Ireland says: "Big men are fine, but first I want quick men who can shoot." He has them.

The Pressure of a Trade—Pappas Likes the Feeling

By DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

TAMPA, Fla. — (NEA) — Milt Pappas hopes there's as much pressure on Frank Robinson to be the guy who swings a pennant for Baltimore as there is on him to swing one for Cincinnati.

According to the front office of each club, the Pappas-Robinson trade was meant to bring in the man who could put their respective pennant drives over the top.

"I most certainly feel this pressure mounting," Pappas said, "but I welcome it. I think it's great. Maybe it will make me win 20 games finally."

"There's pressure to win a pennant in Baltimore, too. I hope Robinson feels it and I hope it makes him hit .400 and drive in 200 runs," he said.

"Then we can have a World Series in Cincinnati and Baltimore and all the brass will be happy and my new restaurant in Baltimore will be full every night."

Pappas said that for the most part he likes the trade, that it "makes sense" even though it was sad to leave his Baltimore buddies.

"A guy like me has to be flattered to be traded for a guy like Robinson. But the Reds needed pitching, and I can pitch—I think I proved it in the American League—and Baltimore needed one more big hitter," he said.

The things about the trade Pappas dislikes are the questions, mostly from fans and writers, that ask him to compare himself with Robinson.

"It usually goes something like, 'Milt, do you figure you can fill Frank's shoes?' I mean, how stupid can you get?"

"I tell them, hell no, I can't fill Robinson's shoes. How could I? I'm a pitcher and he's an outfielder. I pitch once every four games and he bats and fields every day. Geez!"

"The real pressure," Pappas said, "is for me to beef up the pitching department, not to be another Robinson. Over in Baltimore nobody in his right mind is expecting Robinson to be another Pappas."

"I do understand why some Cincinnati people ask me questions like that," Pappas went on. "When you lose a guy like Robinson you expect to get a Koufax in return. Still, I tend to resent it a little. Pride, you know."

Pappas compiled a 110-74 record in his eight years with the Orioles. His best season was 19-7 in 1964. Last year he was 13-9 with a 2.64 earned run average.

"I was worried that some of the players would be resentful that they got me for Robbie but everybody has been great," he said. "This means a lot. I seem to be fitting in with the team O.K."

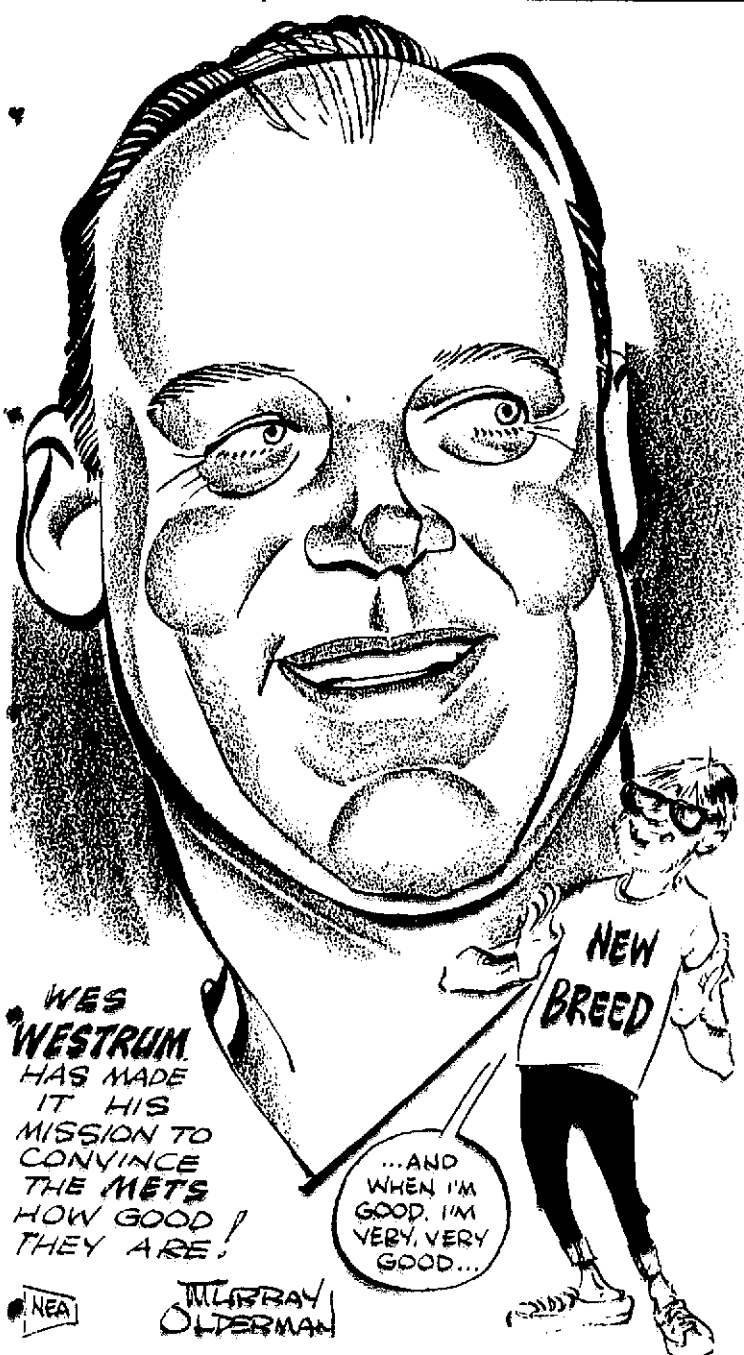

"But any pressure on me to win big is fine. If I'm ever going to be a great pitcher," he laughed, "then I'd better get rolling. I'll be 27 soon."

Pappas gave Reds' manager Don Heckner credit for a nice comeback when Milt mentioned his "creeping old age" to Heckner.

"Don't worry about your age, son," Heckner told him. "Just pitch."

"I liked that," Pappas said.

NEW SKIPPERS: WESTRUM

FORM CHARTS

9-Atlanta (Perhaps) Braves

PITCHING—There are many rumors about the future of the Braves. One is that they'll open the season in West Palm Beach. The other is that Gen. Eckert plans to send the team, under the exchange program, to the Japanese Central League. The Nankai Hawks would come here, playing all their games on the road. This presumably would give the courts time to clear up all the litigation against the Braves. Wherever they go, however, they'll have a fair pitching staff, though not of championship caliber. Tony Cloninger won 24 games last season. Wade Blasingame and Ken Johnson 16 each. Hank Fischer and Dick Kelley still haven't proved they can win in the majors. A comeback by Denny Lemaster, a 17-game winner in 1964, would help. Billy O'Dell had an outstanding year in relief in 1965. RATING—B-.

INFIELD—An excellent deal with the Red Sox brought Lee Thomas to the Braves. He'll play first base, a position occupied primarily by two catchers and an outfielder last year. Thomas is a long-ball threat which makes the Milwaukee offense even more potent. Frank Bolling again will be at second and Eddie Mathews at third. Mathews is 34 but had a good year in 1965 with 32 home runs and 95 RBI. At short it will be either Dennis Menke or Woody Woodward. RATING—B.

OUTFIELD—Henry Aaron and Rico Carty are two of the best hitters in baseball. Aaron finished at .318 last year, Carty at .310. Then there is Felipe Alou who hit .297 with 23 home runs. And Mack Jones who had 31 home runs and 75 RBI. Nothing like stockpiling. RATING—A.

CATCHING—Joe Torre may be the best catcher in the major leagues. Last year was another good one for him. He hit .291 with 27 home runs and 80 RBI. Gene Oliver, who played a lot at first, was in 122 games, and hit .270 with 21 home runs and 58 RBI. RATING—A.

BENCH—Rico Carty had back trouble last season and Dennis Menke knee problems, so the Braves must be prepared. Gary Geiger, drafted from the Red Sox, is a possible outfield replacement, along with Frank Thomas. Sandy Alomar and Mike de La Hoz are the infield reserves. John Blanchard can catch, play first base and the outfield. RATING—C+.

SUMMARY—It's always comforting to go into spring training not knowing if you should have an "A" or an "M" on your hat. Since the players are professionals, all the legal entanglements aren't supposed to worry them. It should be interesting, however. About the only thing the team needs is more depth on the pitching staff. Oh yes, they could also use a ball park. Prediction—6th.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Two Negatives Make Positive

By JACOBY & SON
1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Here is another hand from the new book, "Bid Better, Play Better." It is a good example of how an expert can request the lead of one suit by negative signals in the other suits.

Dorothy Hayden points out that anyone can recognize a high card signal but sometimes you can't afford to use a high card in order to get your message to your partner.

North's opening three spade bid and South's three no-trump do not meet with our complete approval but obviously the author wanted to present a situation where the bidding would not help the defense.

West opens his fourth best club. The ten is played by North. East likes clubs since he has four of them but he holds the four top hearts and likes that suit much better. Therefore he signals displeasure with clubs by dropping the deuce.

South wins with the ace and goes after the spades. West notes that the king of clubs is a sure entry for the suit but he still holds back his ace until the third lead so as to give his partner a chance to signal in hearts or diamonds. East would like to signal by dropping the ace of hearts but he can't afford to. He needs four heart tricks to set the three no-trump contract. Therefore, East does just as well. He drops the deuce of diamonds.

Now, if West is on his toes he will have noted that his partner has asked him not to lead diamonds or clubs. The only suit left is hearts, and West leads it.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Lanolin Base Cold Cream Best Type for Cleansing

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

There has been some confusion over a statement I made regarding cold cream. For dry skin I recommended cold cream with a lanolin base for cleansing. For this purpose the so-called vanishing creams with a greasiness base should be avoided.

Q—My doctor says I have pemphigus erythematosus vulgaris. What causes this? Can it be cured?

A—Pemphigus is a disease in which large blebs or blisters occur suddenly. The cause is unknown. There are several forms of the disease but none exactly as you have stated. Pemphigus vulgaris is the commonest form and was always fatal before the discovery of cortisone. This disease is characterized by severe pain and prostration. It should always be treated in a hospital, because scrupulous care is required to prevent the blisters from becoming infected and because transfusions are sometimes needed. When treatment with cortisone is started early in the course of the disease a cure can usually be expected.

Pemphigus erythematosus is a rare form of the disease that is characterized by remissions and recurrences but is less severe than pemphigus vulgaris.

Q—Is there any cure for hidradenitis suppurativa? I have had it almost 10 years. My doctor tried tetracycline but I'm allergic to it.

A—This is a deep-seated inflammation of the sweat glands, usually in the armpits.

In Washington Game Called Protocol Is Vital to That Social List for Survival

By KELLY SMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Can you use asparagus scissors? Eat an artichoke? Peel an orange with knife and fork? Do you realize "lady" is a poor word choice?

In Washington, you know, or you're out.

Some have dubbed this a jungle of gentility and knowing the game called protocol is vital to survival.

A priestess of protocol is Mrs. Gladstone Williams, a petite, dark-haired, English-born hostess listed in Who's Who and the Green Book. Washington's selective social list.

Concerned over the dilemma of unknown newcomers, Mrs. Williams started a "prestige course in social protocol" four years ago at Southeastern University, two blocks west of the White House.

Several hundred diplomats and wives from 45 countries and 50 states since have completed one of her eight-week courses. The names are secret. Mrs. Williams says, "We don't like to embarrass our students."

"There are rules for every phase of diplomatic life. Rules tell you how to eat, what to eat, how to leave calling cards, what to talk about, and how to visit the White House."

"The protocol rules are 150 years old. Some are archaic. But diplomats coming here from other countries expect to follow them, and do—with the White House setting the pace."

Students in her classes, which meet four hours one night a week, learn such things as: How to entertain with a full staff, how to use calling cards, reminder cards, table decor and settings, how to rank guests, serve wines, set up receiving lines, plan a wardrobe, fashion taboos, how to offer a toast, how to tip at the theater and "wrong words."

These include words like lady—use woman; drapes—use draperies; formal—use evening gown; and tux—don't use it at all.

Mrs. Williams generalizes: On peeling an orange with the knife and fork: "If you'll notice, the Americans at the table barely tackle it."

On attending a reception: "Put antiperspirant on your hands before the party."

On fried chicken and steak: "Never serve at a formal dinner."

If in doubt about any protocol problem, Mrs. Williams says "a smile in your eyes can get you by. If you look worried, it looks as if you don't know what you're doing. Act confident."

"If you worry too much about whether to do a thing—if you find yourself asking 'Should I?'—then don't do it at all."

"A general rule of thumb is to do anything to make people feel at ease."

Former Nazis Is Acquitted

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Two former Nazi police officials were acquitted today of charges of aiding and abetting the 1939 mass murder of 349 Polish intellectuals near Bydgoszcz, in central Poland.

The court said there was insufficient evidence to convict Jakob Loelgen, 69, and Horst Eichler, 55.

The prosecutor had asked the court to sentence Loelgen to four years in prison and to acquit Eichler, a former lieutenant colonel in the Nazi SS (elite guard), because of insufficient evidence.

Big Twosome Still Hope of Dodgers

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Last year at this time the Los Angeles Dodgers' monumental worry was how the arthritic left arm of Sandy Koufax would react to the rigor of pitching in rotation.

The Dodgers found out and won the National League pennant.

Now the Dodgers' even more monumental worry is how fast the left arm of Koufax and the right arm of Don Drysdale will be ready to take their regular turns in the rotation.

And upon that question could rest the chances of the Dodgers to become the first NL pennant repeater since the Milwaukee Braves won in 1957 and 1958.

If Koufax and Drysdale, who signed for nearly a quarter of a million dollars after holding out for 32 days, can get into the starting rotation quickly and pitch as they did last year, the Dodgers conceivably could wind up at or near the top again.

But if the ace hurlers need more time to get into shape, the Dodgers could, at the start, get into trouble from which they might never recover.

The Dodgers are dependent on the two pitching whizzes. There's no doubt about that. Between them last season they won 49 regular season games and three in the World Series. Koufax also set a major league strikeout record and led the majors with a 2.04 earned run average.

No matter how well they pitch, however, the Dodgers had last year and still appear to have this season a weak-hitting team.

The offense was one of the weakest in the league in 1965 as the Dodgers finished seventh in team batting with a .245 average and last in home runs with 78, less than one every other game.

The return of outfielder Tommy Davis could add some potency to the line-up, but the Dodgers will have to wait and see how far he can return. Davis, the NL batting champion in 1962 and 1963, sat out all but 17 games last year with a broken ankle.

Right now he's having difficulty running, so he must remain a question mark.

So must the Dodgers' infield experiment. Jim Lefebvre, the league Rookie of the Year, has been switched from second base and third making room for Nate Oliver, who finally may be ready to make it after hitting 284 at Spokane last season.

If Oliver can't, Lefebvre will go back to second, and either John Kennedy or the ever reliable Jim Gilliam—now a coach—will take over at third.

The remainder of the infield is set with Wes Parker at first base and Maury Wills at shortstop. John Roseboro is back behind the plate, and Ron Fairly and Willie Davis will be in the outfield with Tommy Davis or Lou Johnson.

The Dodgers do have some pitchers beside Koufax and Drysdale. Claude Osteen, 15-15 with a 2.79 ERA last year, is the No. 3 hurler while veteran Johnny Podres and Phil Regan, acquired from Detroit, could help.

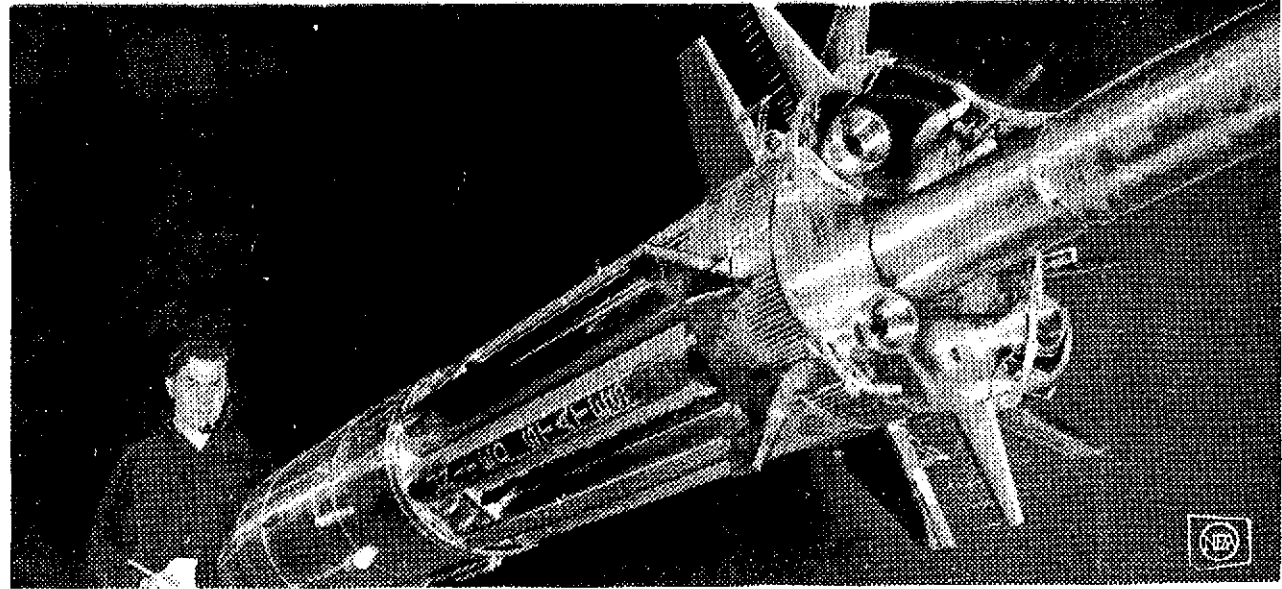

Manager Walter Alton also has some youngsters who could come through, such as Don Sutton, Bill Singer and Joe Moeller.

But still the Dodgers' hopes for winning another pennant or even finishing among the top three or four lie with Koufax and Drysdale.

From Portable Telephones to Monitored Hearts Space Research Help Earthlings

It's not a ray gun, but a scale model of the Saturn 1-B launch vehicle about to be tested in a Lewis Research Center wind tunnel.

By ROGER DOUGHTY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

CLEVELAND—(NEA)—In 25 years Americans could be eating reprocessed sewage, flying from Cleveland to Tokyo in three hours and carrying portable telephones in their pockets.

Doughty What makes the statements all the more unusual is that folks at Lewis are primarily concerned with space flight propulsion.

Dr. W. T. Olson, assistant director of this NASA complex adjacent to Cleveland-Hopkins Airport, thinks, however, that the connection is clear.

He recognizes the concern expressed by many observers that too much money is being spent on the space program while medicine, education and other worth-while causes here on earth are shortchanged. But Olson doesn't see things that way.

"The government is the first to experience tremendous expense in many scientific efforts," he says. "Once these ideas are proven, industry is able to put many of these principles to work through mass production."

"It happened in the case of miniature transistors, which have resulted in thousands of people walking around with little radios stuck in their ears, and it will happen more frequently in the future. It should be noted that 90 per cent of NASA's work is done through contract to private industry."

Dr. Olson envisions vast improvements in the fields of transportation, communications, education, power generation and medicine, to name a few, as a direct result of efforts in space.

The earth will become one big neighborhood in the next 25 years. "We already have supersonic military aircraft," he points out, "and supersonic transports and commercial airliners are closer to being a reality every day. People will soon be flying from Cleveland to Tokyo in three hours and from New York to Paris in 2½ hours or so."

Rocket-powered trains and all kinds of space-age-inspired public conveyances, many powered by systems developed at Lewis, will make already fast-paced lives even more hectic.

As for eating sewage, scientists have been probing recycling sewage back into food in an environmental control experiment.

"We've come so far in the communications field," Olson says, "that most people now take it for granted when they flick on their television sets and watch a live round-table discussion with participants in Washington, Paris, London and Berlin."

Color television consoles on telephones, portable telephones that can be carried in purse or pocket and other sophisticated portable appliances are things that will be with us in the next quarter-century.

Through the use of technology developed for space flight, Lewis scientists envision the day when it will be possible to shrink the size of a big city power plant to the size of a room. Ugly substations that chew up half a city block will disappear.

Dr. Olson points out that fuel cells may play a big role in keeping our cities free of carbon monoxide and smoke.

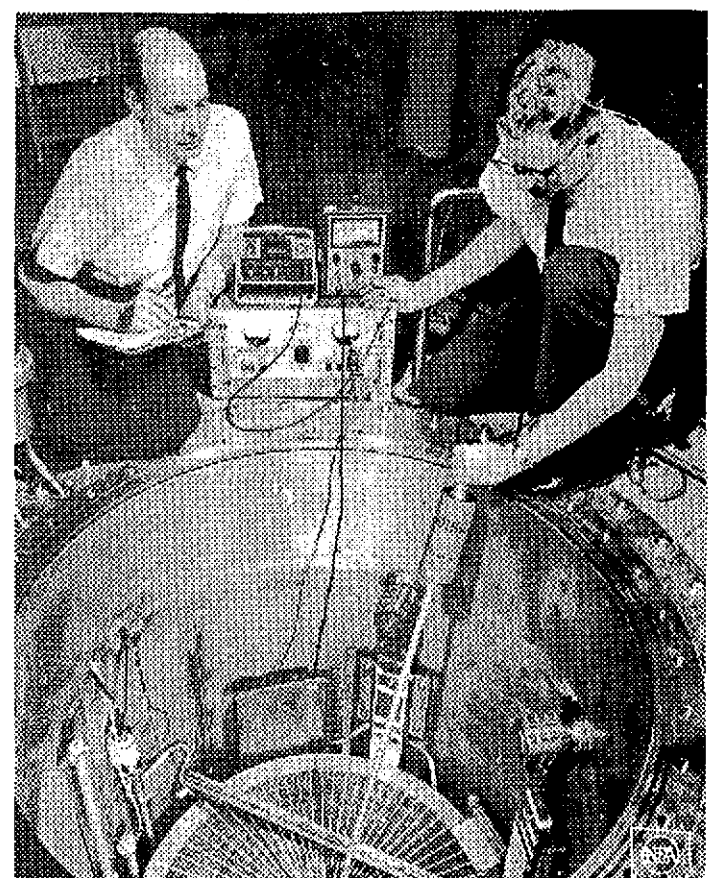

"The cells convert chemical energy to electrical energy at a very high rate of efficiency," he says. "They're clean and quiet and could be used to power cars, trucks and buses."

New techniques developed in the space program have caused breakthrough after breakthrough which hold the key to a fantastic future.

In medicine, miniature circuits first developed for space and defense needs are now helping to keep thousands of people alive through their use in heart pacers.

"And there's a little thing called a biotelemetry," Olson spawned during a period of world-wide conflict, was chiefly concerned with the development of propeller aircraft during World War II. The pace quickened as a result of the jet propulsion breakthrough and when the Soviet Union orbited Sputnik I in 1957, Lewis scientists found themselves in the middle of the space race.

Two Lewis scientists examine a high-field strength cryomagnet used in magnetic research.

says, "that's a combination stethoscope and radio transmitter. It was designed to transmit the heartbeat of an astronaut back to earth. It's quite possible that such a device could be used by heart patients."

"The biotelemetry would relay signals to a computer at a hospital. The computer would monitor the signals and at the first sign of trouble the hospital staff would be alerted by remote control."

Budget Jolt Cooking-Glass Newspaper

Last Friday we made a 4x6 Ektachrome color photo of a blooming peach tree and four local children expecting to publish before Easter the first full-color newspaper picture in the history of Southwest Arkansas — but a money problem fogged the venture and it will have to wait.

To publish a full-color photograph you need a set of four separation negatives — one each for the black, red, blue, and yellow. These are exposed onto four separate plates, printed on four different sections of the press, with registration marks so that the overprinting will come out looking like a single operation. You've seen poorly done color printing where one or more of the colors were "out of register." The cure for that is to start with a perfect set of separation negatives and then do a skillful job with them in making plates and running the press.

But have you any idea what a set of four separation negatives cost for just one four-column newspaper color picture? I had a modest idea — but it was too modest. I got a shocking quotation from a top-level Dallas firm — $136.15.

That scuttled the project — for the time being.

The Star has planned all along to do this color work with its own crew and equipment. Garland Bosley, an old Eastman Kodak man who now is co-owner of the Jungkind photo supply house in Little Rock, and I have a joint projection to make separation negatives here — but at the last minute we discovered we needed an arc-lamp to "soup up" our enlarger, a $1,500 item which gave me pause.

But we're ordering it, regardless. The alternative of $136.15 per picture is prohibitive.

Our first picture in color was a cinch — a simple duotone, a single negative printed in black and overprinted in red to give a rologravure effect. We can do that any time some advertiser uses color, throwing in a duotone news picture because one unit of the press is already loaded with color. But a true color photograph in the four-negative process is a tedious and exacting job for professionals — as the Dallas price-tag will tell you.

Our apologies to Prescott and Emmet subscribers for the "looking-glass" effect on yesterday's comic page. The shop printed the comic-page negative in reverse, making the captions and the bridge column unreadable.

We killed 1,200 copies and lost half an hour correcting the plate for the press. But the Emmet-Prescott papers were gone beyond recall.

In more than 500 pages of offset production since the first of the year this was our first major "bust." Now that the shop has been alerted it shouldn't happen again, and even if it does we have set up checkers to catch the error before the defective plate is put on the press.

Woman Killed, 3 Others Hurt

POCAHONTAS, Ark. (AP) — A head-on collision of two cars near here Monday killed Mrs. Betty Porter, 36, of Pocahontas, and injured three other persons said State Trooper Weldon Evans.

Evans said Mrs. Porter's car collided with one driven by Kenneth Brewer of Pocahontas. He said Brewer and a passenger, James Agee, were hospitalized, and Johnny Hall, a passenger in the Porter car, escaped serious injury. Hall and Agee are from Pocahontas.

North Central Admits Schools

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The admission of Fort Smith Southside and five other Arkansas high schools into the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools was announced by the State Education Department Monday.

Admitted to the accrediting agency besides Southside were Beebe, Berryville, Manila, Prairie Grove and Weiner high schools.

The admission brought to 156 the number of Arkansas high schools accredited by the association. They represent 65 per cent of the state's secondary school enrollment.

Faubus Says Stephens Is Considering

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus today confirmed reports that W. R. (Witt) Stephens, president of Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., is seriously considering running for governor.

"At least he was when I last talked with him several days ago," Faubus said at a news conference.

The governor was questioned about reports that a great deal of organizational work for Stephens is being done in all sections of the state.

Faubus declined to discuss Stephens' plans in detail, but the reports say that members of the legislature, with whom Stephens served two terms, are doing a lot of the work.

Political observers apparently did not know whether Stephens was promoting the organizational work or whether it was being done by his supporters with the idea of going to him and saying, "Look what we have for you if you want to run."

Faubus said he's still out of the race and he turned aside questions about himself and other potential candidates.

His pollster, Gene Newsom of Jonesboro, delivered to him Monday a partial report on a new poll. Faubus said the poll was started before he announced out of the race and that it did not include an assessment of Stephens' popularity.

When the governor refused to discuss figures in the poll, one newsman said, "It must have been pretty bad."

Faubus grinned and said, "The needle doesn't get anything out of me when I don't want to divulge it."

Faubus ended the political discussion by saying, "I'd like to help you, but I can't. I just don't want to talk about politics or the candidates."

McCaskill RCI to Hear P.O. Official

The McCaskill RCI April meeting will be held this Friday night April 8, and will feature a talk by Harold M. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. with the usual covered dish dinner for members and guests at the community building. Those who attend the dinner are asked to bring their table service.

The program will begin at 8 o'clock and the public is cordially invited to hear Mr. Jinks, who was secured for the meeting by Postmaster Geneva Moses of McCaskill. In past years Mr. Jinks has been Postmaster at Piggott and also director of Postmaster and rural appointments for the Bureau of Operations in Washington, D.C.

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Donald Langston, 24, of the Glencoe community near Salem was killed Monday night when his car collided with a trailer tow truck near here said State Trooper Buren Jackson.

Jackson said the collision happened after Langston's car topped a hill on a long curve. He said the driver of the truck Harry Cousins, 38, of West Memphis, was not hurt.

These Burglars Tried Too Hard

CHICOPEE, Mass. (AP) — These burglars tried too hard. Police said thieves used nitroglycerine while trying to blow open a safe, but in the process blew apart a third of the building and scattered $30,000 about the office.

The thieves apparently were behind the building during the blast, and did not take any of the money, police said.

Sees Fewer Farm Restrictions

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — Richard Arnold, a candidate for 4th District congressman, predicted Monday that the federal government would soon relax restrictions on farmers because of the world need for food and clothing.

Arnold said the loosening of the restrictions would be a relatively slow process. "The system of controls and price supports, built up over a long period, cannot be abruptly abandoned without an adequate period of adjustment," he told a civic club.

At Least 9 Dead From Tornadoes

By TED EDIGER
and JIM STROTTHAM

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Tornadoes spawned in a severe squall line thrashed across central Florida Monday, leaving a 150-mile path of destruction from the Gulf of Mexico to the Atlantic.

At least nine were dead, more than 300 injured, several missing, and hundreds of homes, house trailers and businesses destroyed. National Guardsmen were on duty through the night, probing wreckage for any additional bodies and guarding against looting.

Gov. Haydon Burns said he would ask President Johnson to declare five counties disaster areas, making them eligible for federal relief.

The Red Cross said the hard-hitting area was around Gibsonsia north of Lakeland, where a preliminary survey showed at least 300 homes destroyed or damaged. There was heavy damage all around Lakeland, a city of 41,000, at Auburndale, Davenport, Haines City and Winter Haven.

Striking first at the St. Petersburg-Clearwater area about 8 a.m., the howling winds next hit Tampa, second largest city in the state with 275,000, then moved on to Lakeland in the northern part of citrus-rich Polk County.

PSC Insists Records Are Made Public

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — No member of the public has been denied access to Public Service Commission records, chairman Lewis Robinson said Monday in answer to the Republican Party's request to inspect the agency.

Robinson wrote state GOP Chairman John Paul Hammerschmidt that the records could be inspected at any reasonable time.

Hammerschmidt had written Robinson last week asking for permission to look at the records and if any of them were considered private.

Hammerschmidt also asked for a catalog on how records were kept. Procedures for keeping records are established by law, Robinson said, and Hammerschmidt could answer his own question by looking at the statutes.

"I don't know what records he has in mind," he said, "but he's welcome to look at any of them. If he's on a fishing expedition, we'll give him bait to fish with."

Man Dies While Driving Auto

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Howard Keller, 62, of Jonesboro died of a heart attack just before his car rolled into the side of a parked truck on a main thoroughfare here Monday, ruled Coroner Bill J. Emerson.

Emerson said Keller, a bottling company official, had stopped for a signal just before the collision.

Bombers Lash Enemy Rail Line to China

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. fighter-bombers lashed North Viet Nam's main railroad, line to Red China, giving top priority to a bridge only 2 miles northeast of Hanoi, an American spokesman reported today.

The spokesman said that for the first time since the 37-day bombing pause ended Jan. 31, restrictions limiting American planes to communication targets in the southern part of North Viet Nam had been lifted somewhat. He did not expalin further.

With clearing skies, Air Force and Navy planes flew 65 combat missions Monday over North Viet Nam. Asked if the switch to targets near the North Vietnamese capital was in reprisal for the terrorist bombing last week of a U.S. officers' billet in Saigon, a U.S. embassy spokesman said: "No, we do not make reprisal attacks."

Three Americans and three Vietnamese were killed and more than 100 persons were wounded in the attack on the billet early last Friday. The United States began almost daily air raids on the Communist north Feb. 7, 1965, in reprisal for a guerrilla attack on the U.S. base at Pleiku, in South Viet Nam's central highlands.

In addition to the Phu Lang Thon railroad bridge 25 miles outside Hanoi, the Air Force planes attacked section of the railroad 52 miles northeast of the capital and a highway bridge and marshaling yard in the same general area. The spokesman said the yard was left in an unusable state but has prevented assessment of the results of the other attacks.

U.S. planes last hit the sector in November.

Supporters Took Them at Word

JEFFERSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — When officials of Carson-Newman College announced they would take "anything negotiable" in a drive to build a new football stadium, several supporters took them literally.

Among recent donations were a nanny goat, a guinea, two chickens and a dozen eggs. The barnyard aggregation was negotiable for $46, the college said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Employment surged upward by more than 500,000 in March while the number of jobless showed little change; the Bureau of Labor Statistics announced today.
